PENINSULA LAW FOUNDER & PRINCIPAL

When Beti Tsai Bergman founded Peninsula Law, she combined her experiences working for the LA City Attorney's Office with her expertise as a civil litigator to create a firm that is laser focused on probate, trust and estate administration, conservatorships, elder abuse, and trust and probate litigation. Bergman and her team are highly knowledgeable about these areas of law and represent clients with diverse probate needs, all of which has earned Bergman and Peninsula Law 10.0 ratings from Avvo and a myriad of grateful clients.

What inspired Peninsula Law? After I started my own family, I resigned as a Deputy City Attorney, but didn't want to give up practicing law. I immersed myself in estate planning, trusts and conservatorship and became certified by the California State Bar as an expert in those areas. I quickly earned an excellent reputation in the probate field and Peninsula Law blossomed into an amazing practice and probate powerhouse.

Share your mission. We are an elite boutique firm that subscribes to the philosophy that the key to true mastery is doing one thing 10,000 times, not 10,000 things one time. Peninsula Law is a master in probate law because we only focus on probate.

What sets Peninsula Law apart in the profession? I have a way of relating to people, which allows me to understand not just what they are saying, but what they truly mean. This lets me cut to the heart of what a client needs, legal issues, and viable arguments. I not only handle the planning and administration side of estates, but I also know how to litigate and try a case, which is a skill set that not all probate attorneys possess. This gives our clients a priceless legal advantage.

What's on the horizon? Peninsula Law is growing, and I want to continue to expand my firm by getting the best people in place. I also continue to give back to the community through pro-bono work, clinics, mentoring, and as a volunteer mediator.
